Subject Index

Page numbers in italics denote figures; those followed by “t” denote tables.

A Adipose tissue. See also Body fat devolution of, 99–101
distribution of
description of, 1
gender differences, 125–126
subcutaneous, 126
visceral, 126, 126t
energy costs of, 122
intraabdominal, 120, 125–126
parental, 137
in utero development of, 89
Adiposity
definition of, 1
familial factors that affect,
162–163
Adiposity rebound
adult obesity and, correlations between, 104–105
body mass index measurements and, 101–103
description of, 99–101
factors associated with gender, 106
insulin-like growth factor-1, 109
nutrition, 107–110
parental body mass index, 106
physical activity, 107
protein intake, 108–109
secural trends, 107
skeletal maturity, 106–107
socioeconomic status, 107
study differences, 105–106
summary overview of, 110–111
fatness and, 102–104
nutritional causes of, 104
obesity and, 102–103
research in, 111
studies of, 102–105
Adolescents
body fat distribution in central distribution, 124–125
description of, 123–124
intraabdominal, 125–127
eating modifications in, 215
energy requirements, 122
growth in, 122
obesity in
description of, 110, 119
persistance into adulthood, 123 prevalence studies in Asian and European countries, 26–29
snacking by, 168
stature of, 49–50
Adults
atherosclerosis risk factors in, 72–73 birth weight effects on body mass index in, 87
morbidity and mortality in childhood obesity and, 74–75
overview of, 74–75
obesity in
adiposity rebound and, 104–105
persistance from childhood, 123 overweight, 76
weight gain in, 76–77
American Academy of Pediatrics fat
recommendations, 167, 169
Asia, prevalence in BMI cutoff points, 29
description of, 23–24
discussion of findings, 29–31
materials and methods, 24–25
prevalence in, 30
results, 25–29
Assessments
atherosclerosis, 73–74
description of, 63–64
obesity, 4, 120, 245

287
Atherosclerosis
  adulthood risk factors, 72–73
  assessment of, 73–74
  childhood risk factors, 70–71
  intima media thickness and, 74 Australia School Project, 260t, 266, 268t

B
Bariatric surgery, 236–238
Basal metabolic rate, 133
Behavioral modifications, 214–215, 253
Bioelectrical impedance, 119–120 Birth weight
  adult body mass index and, 87 body mass index and, 84–85 cardiovascular risk factors and, 85, 86 insulin resistance and, 86
  lean body mass and, 86
  leptin concentrations and, 89–90
  skinfold thickness and, 84
  waist-to-hip ratio and, 85
BMI. See Body mass index Body composition
  childhood, 121–122
  description of, 121
  ethnic differences in, 123 fat deposition patterns, 121 infancy, 121–122
  pubertal period, 122
  weaning effects, 135 Body fat. See also Adipose tissue bioelectrical impedance measurement of, 119–120 body mass and, 2, 99
  central, 1
definition of, 1
deposition patterns, 121 diet and, 124–125
distribution of
  adolescent changes, 123–127
description of, 64–65
  measures of, 120–121
truncal, 120
endocrine effects on, 124
etnic differences in, 123 formula for calculating, 119 intrauterine gaining of, 135
  leptin concentrations and, 89–92 measurement of, 1–2, 119–120 percentages of, 99
  pubertal changes in, 122
  waist circumference measurements of, 121, 216 Body mass index
  adiposity rebound and, 104
  advantages of, 6, 100
  age variations in, 64
  birth weight and, 84–85
  boys, 224
  categorization of, 67
centiles, 64
correlation rates for, 7
cutoff points
  centiles for determining, 13–14
  international BMI centile chart, 14–17
  national, 13–14
  need for, 17, 275
  obesity in adulthood, 67
  risk-based, 11, 13
description of, 99, 120
disadvantages of, 6
girls, 225
  international chart, 14–17
  lean tissue mass and, 85 LMS curves, 9, 10
  obesity assessments using, 4, 120, 245
  parental, 106
  reductions in, 216
  secular trends, 65
  summary overview of, 17–18
twins studies, 93
Breast milk, 135, 137
Breast-feeding
  description of, 88–90
  nutrients, 135
  obesity risks and, 274
  studies of, 90
  work site acceptance of, 276

C
Carbohydrates
dietary intake of, 134
  fat synthesis by, 134
Cardiovascular Health in Children Study, 259t, 263, 268t Cardiovascular risk factors
  childhood obesity and, 75, 245
  intraabdominal body fat distribution, 125
Centiles
  construction of, 8–11
  definition of, 5
  international, 14–17
Child and Adolescent Trial for Cardiovascular Health, 257, 258t, 261, 267, 268t
Children
  body composition in, 121–122
  communication with, 280–281
  dietary intake
    description of, 168–169
    eating experiences
      description of, 164–165
      parental model for, 167–168
  food preferences
    food intake patterns based on, 166–167
    overweight risks and, 169–170
    parental influences on, 163–164
    restrictions, 166
    snack foods, 166
    overweight risks and, 169–170
    hunger responses, 165–166
    weight-for-height indices, 3–4 Chile
  health and nutrition programs in, 50–52 infant mortality rate in, 45 obesity studies in BMI cutoff points, 47
    criteria for, 46–47
    determinants of obesity, 52–57 prevalence data, 47–49
    risk factors identified, 52–56 stunting effects, 49–50
    trends, 47–49
  protein-energy malnutrition eradication efforts, 45 supplementary feeding programs in, 50–52
China, 30, 199, 201–202
Coefficient of variation, 9
Cold exposure, 88
Communication strategies, 280–281
Community
  policy and environmental changes in food intake, 279
    physical activity, 279–280
    recreation facilities, 280 programs offered in, 248
Community health centers, 211
Compartmental model, 148–151, 150
Conventional treatment. See Treatment
Coronary heart disease, 75
Cutoff points, for body mass index
  centiles for determining, 13–14
  international BMI centile chart, 14–17
  national, 13–14
  need for, 17, 275
  obesity in adulthood, 67
  risk-based, 11, 13
Cycling, 186

D
Diabetes mellitus type 2
  childhood obesity risks, 68–70
  maternal, 87–88
  weight gain and, 77
Diet. See also Eating patterns and practices; Nutrition body fat distribution and, 124–125
  breast-feeding, 88–90
  childhood obesity risks, 88–89, 169–170, 201
  eating experiences
    description of, 164–165
    parental model for, 167–168, 274–275
    fat intake, 134–135, 212
  food preferences
    food intake patterns based on, 166–167
    overweight risks and, 169–170
    parental influences on, 163–164, 274–275
    restrictions, 166
    snack foods, 166
    low-fat, 212–213
    modifications of, 212–213, 253
SUBJECT INDEX

Diet (contd.)
  nutrients, 133–134
  overfeeding, 88
  overweight risks and, 169–170
  parental influences on, 137
  physical activity effects, 137–138 protein-sparing modified fast, 226–227 restricted, 226–227
  studies of, 93
  thermogenesis induced by, 152
  treatments based on, 252
  very-low-energy programs, 226
Dietary Intervention Study in Children, 212
Diethylpropion, 228–229
Distribution of body fat
  adolescent changes, 123–127
  description of, 64–65
  measures of, 120–121
  truncal, 120
Domain-specific parenting, 162
Dual energy x-ray absorptiometry body fat assessments, 125
  obesity assessments using, 119, 122

E
Eat Well and Keep Moving, 259t, 263, 268t Eating patterns and practices. See also Diet; Food intake; Nutrition breakfast eating, 200
  childhood, 164–165
  fast foods, 200
  modifications of, 215
  obesity prevalence and, 200
  parental influences on, 164–165
  portion sizes, 168–169
Energy
  adipose tissue requirements, 122 balance of, 132–133
  daily requirements, 216 expenditure of, 132–133
  infant deficits in, metabolic adaptation to, 109–110 nutrients that provide, 133–134 partitioning of genotype effects, 153–154
    studies of, 148–149
    variability in, 152–155
  self-regulation of needs, 165 storage of, 147

Environmental factors
  description of, 161–163
  diet (See Diet)
  domicile regions, 199
  eating patterns and practices (See Eating patterns and practices) genetics vs., 144–145
  nonshared, 161–162
  obesity influenced by, 131, 144
  physical activity, 201
  shared, 161
  socioeconomic status (See Socioeconomic status)
    studies of
      discussion of findings, 197–202
      results, 196–197
      subjects and methods, 196
      television viewing, 184, 188, 200–201, 251–252, 274
      temperature, 88

Etiology
  genetics, 144
  nature-versus-nurture, 144–145
  studies of, 143–144

Europe, prevalence in BMI cutoff points, 29
  description of, 23–24
  discussion of findings, 29–31
  materials and methods, 24–25
  prevalence in, 30
  results, 25–29

Exercise. See Physical activity

F
Fast foods, 200, 277
Fat
  body (See Body fat)
  dietary American Academy of Pediatrics recommendations, 167, 169 carbohydrate synthesis of, 134 intake of
      description of, 134
      factors that affect, 137–138
      fat gain and, 134–135
      obesity risks and, 212
oxidation of, 135–136
physical activity effects, 137–138
skeletal muscle in regulating, 136–137
Fat cell theory, 89
Fat-free mass
description of, 6
laboratory measurements of, 119
pubertal increases in, 122
Fels longitudinal study, 103
Fenfluramine, 228
Fetal programming
cold exposure, 88
environmental temperatures, 88
future studies of, 93
growth, 84–85
intrauterine environment effects, 87
lean tissue, 85–87
leptin concentrations, 89–92
maternal factors associated with, 87–88
mechanisms, 89
Fetus
adipose tissue development in, 89 programming hypothesis (See Fetal programming) Food intake
community strategies for, 279 controlling of, 162
food preferences effect on, 166–167
hunger responses, 165
portion sizes, 168–169
satiety cues, 165–166
self-control of, 162
Food preferences
food intake patterns based on, 166–167
overweight risks and, 169–170
parental influences on, 163–164
restrictions, 166
snack foods, 166
Fruits
community provision of, 279
school food program provision of, 277–278
G
Gastroplasty, 237–238
Gender differences
adiposity rebound caused by, 106 body fat distributions, 126–127
pubertal changes, 122
studies of, 30
Genetics
association studies, 145–146 compartimental model, 148–151, 150 environmental factors vs., 144–145
food preferences, 163–164
genes
studies of, 147–151
types of, 145–147
linkage studies, 145–146
obesity and, 144
overview of, 155–156
thermogenesis, 151–152
Genotypes, 153–154
Go for Health, 259t, 262, 268t
Growth charts
centile crossing, 7
construction of, 8–11
description of, 6
purpose of, 7–8
Growth patterns
in Chinese children
complementary food for improving linear growth, 42
nutrition status improvements, 37–38
overview of, 37
socioeconomic changes, 39–41, 40, 41t
description of, 37
Growth references, 6
Growth standards, 6
H
Health consequences
atherosclerosis
adulthood risk factors, 72–73
assessment of, 73–74
childhood risk factors, 70–71
coronary heart disease, 70
description of, 63
diabetes mellitus type 2, 68–70, 77
social, 65–67
stigma, 65
Height-for-weight indices. See Weight-for-height indices Heteroscedasticity, 3
High density lipoproteins, 70
Hunger, 165–166
Hyperinsulinemia, 234

I
Ideal body weight, 226
Infant
  birth weight of (See Birth weight)
  body composition in, 121–122
diet
  breast-feeding, 88–90, 137, 274
  childhood obesity risks and, 88–89
  energy deficits in, 110 feeding patterns, 137
  overfeeding, 88
  studies of, 93
eating experiences of, 164–165 energy deficits in, metabolic adaptation to, 109–110 weaning of, 135
Insulin
  birth weight effects, 86
  breast-feeding effects, 89
insulin-like growth factor-1, 89, 109
International Obesity Task Force, 207
Intraabdominal distribution of body fat, 125–127 Intrauterine environment
  childhood obesity risks and, 83–84
  fat gain in, 135
  hypothalamic function, 89
  maternal malnutrition effects, 87
Intrauterine growth reduction, 83

K
Know Your Body, 258t, 262, 268t

L
Latin America, 29
Lean body mass
  birth weight correlations with, 86 deposition patterns for, 121 genetic influences, 153–154
  pubertal changes in, 122
Leptin
  body fatness and, 89–92
  description of, 84, 89, 229
  hypothalamic receptors, 92
  programming of, 89–92
  studies of, 90, 91
  therapeutic uses of, 229, 234
Linear regression, 3
Lipolysis, 135–136
LMS method, 9–11, 10
Low density lipoproteins, 70
Low-fat diet, 212–213

M
Malnutrition
  description of, 2
  fetal, 89
  maternal, 87
Maturation measures, 121
Mazindol, 228–229
Metformin, 235

N
Nebraska School Study, 259t, 262–263, 268t Neuropeptide Y, 145
Nutrient balance, 133–134
Nutrifit, 264
Nutrition
  adiposity rebound and, 107–110
  behavioral modifications in, 215
  maternal, 87
  socioeconomic changes, 39
  treatments based on, 252

O
Obesity, childhood
  adult mortality and morbidity related to, 74–75
  cardiovascular risk factors, 75, 245
  causes of, 131
  complications of, 223
  definition of, 1, 23, 46
  description of, 1
  environmental factors, 131, 144
  health risks associated with, 23 persistence of, 67–68, 75–76, 123 prevention of (See Prevention)
  programming of, 89
subject index

secular trends in, 65
treatment of (See Treatment)
Octreotide, 234–235
Orlistat, 229
Overnutrition. See Obesity
Overweight. See also Obesity
  adults, 76
definition of, 46
  food preferences and, 169–170

P
Parent(s)
adiposity of, 137
  behavioral modifications promoted by, 214–215 body mass index of, 106 eating patterns of child’s eating based on, 167–168, 170
    description of, 163
    food patterns of, 162
    food preferences of, 163–164 physical activity promoted by, 213–214
  Parenting, domain-specific, 162
Peak growth velocity, 125
Peak height velocity, 125
Peromisome-proliferator-activated receptor, 145
Pharmacotherapy
  clinical trials of, 230t–233t
description of, 227–228
diethylpropion, 228–229
energy intake reductions, 228–229
fenfluramine, 228
leptin, 229, 234
mazindol, 228–229
metformin, 235
octreotide, 234–235
orlistat, 229
phentermine, 228
sibutramine, 229
summary of, 235–236
Phentermine, 228
Physical activity
  adiposity rebound and, 107
  community encouragement of, 279–280 food intake and, 137–138
goals for, 187–188
  increases in, 213–214
  obesity and, 201
  parental involvement in, 213–214
  promotion of, 213
  recommendations, 187–188
  school- and community-based programs for increasing, 185, 250–251, 278–279
  socioeconomic status effects, 185
  studies of
    discussion of, 187–188
    methods for, 178–180
    results, 181–187
  transportation effects, 185
Physical education interventions, 250–251
Policy changes
description of, 273
  medical settings, 275–276
  schools
    description of, 276
    food environment, 277–278
    work sites, 276
Postnatal environment, 83
Power Kids Eat Smart, 260t, 265
Power Kids on the go, 260t, 265
Prader–Willi syndrome, 236–237 Prevalence of obesity
  in Asian and European countries
    BMI cutoff points, 29
    discussion of, 23–24, 197, 199
    materials and methods, 24–25
  in Latin America, 197
  in South Africa, 30
Prevention
  approaches for, 245–247, 246
  family strategies
    breast-feeding, 274
    dietary patterns, 274–275
    eating patterns, 170–171
    overview of, 273–274
  national plan, 202
  programs for community-based, 248
    primary care-based, 247
  school (See School programs) Prevention (contd.)
   reasons for, 245
   sedentary behaviors, 251, 279
   strategies for, 138–139
   summary overview of, 252–254
   television viewing reduction, 251–252 Program(s)
   community-based, 248
   description of, 223
   evaluation of, 218
   primary care–based, 247
   school (See School programs) Programming hypothesis
   cold exposure, 88
   description of, 83
   environmental temperatures, 88
   future studies of, 93
   growth, 84–85
   intrauterine environment effects, 87
   lean tissue, 85–87
   leptin concentrations, 89–92
   maternal factors associated with, 87–88
   mechanisms, 89
Protein intake
   adiposity rebound and, 108
   energy requirements, 133–134
   self-regulation, 134
Protein-sparing modified fast diet, 226–227
Puberty
   body composition changes during, 122
   body fat distribution in, 124
Q
Quantile regression, 8
R
Race, body composition differences based on, 123 Risk factors for obesity activity patterns, 54–55 (See also Physical activity)
   Chilean studies of, 52–56
   description of, 56–57
   food availability, 56
   race/ethnicity influences, 71
   sedentarism, 57
   social expenditures, 54, 56
   socioeconomic changes, 53, 56
Roux-en Y gastric bypass, 236–238, 237
S
School programs
   advantage of, 257
   Australia School Project, 260t, 266, 268t
   Cardiovascular Health in Children Study, 259t, 263, 268t
   CDC guidelines, 267
   challenges for, 267, 269 Child and Adolescent Trial for Cardiovascular Health, 257, 258t, 261, 267, 268t
   classroom curriculum, 249–250
   description of, 248, 257
   Eat Well and Keep Moving, 259t, 263, 268t
   elementary, 257, 258t–259t, 261–264
   food service interventions, 250, 277–278
   foods commonly consumed, 277t
   Go for Health, 259t, 262, 268t
   high school, 264–267
   Know Your Body, 258t, 262, 268t
   Nebraska School Study, 259t, 262–263, 268t
   Nutrifit, 264
   outcomes of, 268t
   physical education interventions, 250–251, 278–279
   policy changes in, 277–278
   Power Kids Eat Smart, 260t, 265
   Power Kids on the go, 260t, 265
   primary school, 257, 258t–259t, 261–264
   Sports, Play, and Active Recreation for Kids, 258t, 261–262, 268t
   Stanford Adolescent Heart Health Program, 249, 260t, 266, 268t
      studies of, 248–249
      Take 10, 259t, 264
      Trim and Fit, 260t, 264–265, 268t
   Secular trends
   adiposity rebound and, 107
   body mass index, 65
Sedentary behaviors, 57, 251, 279
Sibutramine, 229
Skewness, 3
Skinfold thickness
  in adolescents, 124
  biceps, 120
  birth weight effects, 84
  body fat assessments, 100
  obesity assessments using, 120
  triceps, 120
Social factors, 201–202
Socioeconomic status
  adiposity rebound and, 107
  fetal growth and, 84
  obesity risks and, 56, 65–66, 199–200
  physical activity levels and, 185
South Africa, prevalence in, 30
Sports, Play, and Active Recreation for Kids, 258t, 261–262, 268t Stanford Adolescent Heart Health Program, 249, 260t, 266, 268t Starvation
  partitioning in, 148–149
  studies of, 147–148
Stature
  obesity and, 49–50
  sexual maturation effects, 50
Stunting
  obesity prevalence and, 49
  prevalence of, 42
Supplementary feeding programs benefits of, 50–51
  in Chile, 50–52

T
Take 10, 259t, 264
Tanner stages of pubertal development, 47, 121
Television viewing, 184, 188, 200–201, 251–252, 274
Thermogenesis
  adaptive, 151–152
  adipose-specific suppression of, 151, 156 control of, 148, 151
  diet-induced, 152
  genetic basis of, 151–152
  nonspecific suppression of, 156 Treatment
  aggressive
    indications, 223, 226
    regimens, 226–227
    summary overview of, 238–239
  bariatric surgery, 236–238
  barriers to, 215–216
  behavioral modifications, 214–215
  conventional methods of, 207–209 dietary modification, 212–213, 226–227 future directions for, 217–218
  gastroplasty, 237–238
  habit changes, 217
  misconceptions regarding, 215–216 outcome indicators, 216–217
  pharmacotherapy
    clinical trials of, 230t–233t
    description of, 227–228
    diethylpropion, 228–229
    energy intake reductions, 228–229
    fenfluramine, 228
    leptin (See Leptin)
    mazindol, 228–229
    metformin, 235
    octreotide, 234–235
    orlistat, 229
    phentermine, 228
    sibutramine, 229
    summary of, 235–236
    physical activity increases, 213–214
    policy changes in, 275–276
    protein-sparing modified fast diet, 226–227
    providers for, 211
    referrals for, 210
    research questions regarding, 217
    Roux-en Y gastric bypass, 236–238, 237
    settings for, 211–212
    weight management data, 209–211
Trim and Fit program, 260t, 264–265, 268t

V
Vegetables
  community provision of, 279
  school food program provision of, 277–278
Very low density lipoproteins, 70
SUBJECT INDEX

W
Waist circumference body fat assessments using, 121, 216
  measurements of, 64–65, 71
Waist-to-hip ratio, 85
Walking, 186
Weaning, 135
Weight
  birth (See Birth weight) regulation of genes for, 146–147
    parental involvement in, 217
    starvation studies, 147–148 Weight-for-age charts, 99–100
Weight-for-height indices
  adults, 2–3
  centiles, 5
  children, 3–4
  correlations of, 100
  description of, 2, 99–100
  Z scores, 5
World Health Organization
  International Obesity Task Force, 207
  standards of, 46

Z
Z scores, 5